SHERMAN & HYDE'S COLUMN.

Never before in the history of piano forte manufacture has an instrument risen so rapidly in popular favor.

Its intrinsic merit and decided superiority over all others has caused every musician and artist of note to adopt and recommend it.

Nilsson says, "I shall take every opportunity to recommend and praise your instruments."

Miss Kellogg says, "Your Pianos are my choice for the concert room and my own house.

Lucca says, "Your uprights are extraordinary instruments, and deserve their great popularity."

Patti says, "I have used the Pianos of every celebrated maker, but give yours the preference over all."

Strauss says, "Your Pianos astonish me. I have never seen any Pianos which equal yours."

Wohli says, "Madame Parepa called your Pianos the finest in the United States. I fully endorse that opinion. They have no rival."

OUR FLAG.

Every nation has its flag. Every ship in foreign waters is known by the colors she shows at her peak. The French frigate hoists her bunting of three vertical stripes, red, white and blue; the English man-of-war shows a red flag, with the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George on a blue union in the upper left hand corner; and the Austrian a double-headed black eagle, on a yellow ground,—every nation with a name and a place, having its own appropriate symbol.

When we were colonies of England, we sailed and fought under her flag. Twenty years before the Revolution, when we were at war with the French and their allies, the Indians, many a brave man in some hot skirmish with Indians would have welcomed the sight of the red flag of England—it would mean aid and comfort when sorely pressed.

But the time was coming when he was to hate it as much as he had hated the French colors. The time was coming when the sight of it was to mean oppression and tyranny to him, and every feeling of his nature would be roused against it. Every child knows how we finally rebelled; it was nothing less, and, to England, our George Washington was merely a leading rebel. It was a bold proceeding. We were thirteen little States, fringed along on the Atlantic coast, with the unbroken forest behind us, and among the great family of nations we had neither place nor name. We were like the last new boy at a public school—we had to fight to obtain due respect from all the great old nations who were looking on.

Of course we had no flag; we had to earn that too. For a year or so our privateers carried the Massachusetts State flag. It was better, they thought, than the English flag; at any rate. The flag was of white bunting; in the middle, a green pine tree, and on the opposite side the motto, "Appeal to Heaven."

Washington, in his character of General in-Chief, commissioned several privateer schooners, and they all carried this flag.

The Alfred was one of the few large ships we had, and she carried the pine-tree flag, and beside that, one with thirteen stripes, in red and white, but with no stars; while on the stripes was coiled a rattlesnake, with the motto, "Don't tread on me." The rattlesnake being found only in America, there was, of course, a peculiar meaning in this emblem.

In the early part of the Revolution, some of the South Carolina regiments carried the palmetto tree on their flag. That was a very good symbol and the State yet keeps it on her coat of arms, though it grows everywhere in the South. The palmetto logs at Fort Moultrie were found very good things to receive cannon balls when that fort was besieged by the British in June of 1776.

There was this multiplicity of flags because we did not clearly know what we were. No nation had acknowledged us as belonging to their great family yet; in fact, we were not quite cut loose from England, yet we were fighting her with all our might, and it seemed absurd to be under her colors. In the fight at Bunker Hill, the flag planted in the corner of that famous redoubt was of blue bunting, with the cross of St. George in red in the corner, and a pine tree, that same pine tree, in the upper right-hand quarter of the cross.

Our army at Cambridge celebrated New Year's Day, Jan. 1st, 1776, not as the Chinese, by firing crackers and illuminating lanterns in the evening, nor yet by making calls, but by unfurling for the first time in an American camp the flag of thirteen stripes. But even then we had not declared ourselves independent of Great Britain, and this flag had the British Union in the corner, and the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George.

Finally, on the 14th of June, 1776, Congress, which met then in Philadelphia, settled upon our style of flag. "It shall have," said they, "thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, and the union of the States shall be indicated by thirteen stars, white, in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

It was not until about forty years ago that it was decided to add another star for every new State as it joined the Union. So that the constellation as it is now, with nearly forty stars in it, has grown a good deal from the original thirteen. But the stripes still remain the same in number, to remind us of the first little band of States who "fought it out" against Great Britain.—St. Nicholas for July.

Running Antelope, a Sioux chief, said that when he learned that the white men had killed their Savior he was astonished, but he changed his mind when he got better acquainted with them.

GREAT SHOP-KEEPERS.

In Scribner for July, Dr. Holland says that A. T. Stewart's "business was one which he did not do, and could not do, without a depressing influence upon all who were dependent upon the same business for a livelihood. His great establishment was a shadow that hung over all the others in the town. The man with ten or twenty thousand dollars; the man with a hundred thousand dollars; the man with one thousand dollars, each, alike, was obliged to compete with this man, who had millions outside of the necessities of his enormous business. The hosier, the hatter, the woman in her thread-and-needle shop, the milliner, the glove-dealer, the carpet-dealer, the upholsterer, all were obliged to compete with Stewart. If he had followed a single line of business, it would have been different; but he followed all lines. Wherever he saw a profit to be made, in any line of business that was at all congruous with dry-goods, he made it. He thus became a formidable competitor with half the shop-keepers in New York. His capital made it possible for him to ruin men by the turn of his hand—to fix prices at which everybody was obliged to sell, at whatever loss. However proud the New Yorker may have been of his wonderful establishment,—and there is no doubt that it was pretty universally regarded with pride,—it is easy now to see, in this period of unexampled depression, that our business men would be in a much better condition if that establishment had never existed. If all the money that has gone to swell his estate had been divided among small dealers, hundreds of stores, now idle, would be occupied, and multitudes of men now in straitened circumstances, would be comparatively prosperous.

"But it is said that he employed a great many people. Yes, he did; but did he pay them well? Would they not have been better paid in the employ of others? The necessities of his position, and his ambition compelled him to pay small prices. The great mass of those who served him worked hard for the bread that fed them and the clothes that covered them. The public bought cheaply; the outside dealers suffered; the employes laid up no money, and Mr. Stewart got rich. Under the circumstances, and under the necessities of the case, was it desirable that he should get rich? We think not; and we think that the final result of this great shop-keeping success is deplorable in every way. It has absorbed the prosperities of a great multitude of men and women. New York would be richer, happier, more comfortable, more healthy in all its business aspects if the great store at Tenth street had never been built. Five hundred men who invest their little capital in varied lines of business and pay their modest rent and devote their time to their affairs, content with profits that give them and their families a fair living and a few savings for a rainy day, are certainly better for a city than a single Stewart who absorbs their business and leaves them in distress."

There was once a sea-captain who declared that, in all his experience, he never failed to meet with bad weather when he had a man on board his ship who parted his hair in the middle. "I don't know how it is," said the ancient mariner, "but the elements can't seem to tolerate that habit." An equally unreasonable old landsman once said of the tribe who carry walking-sticks: "Everybody is fitted for something useful. Now, a young man who can't do anything else, can carry a cane."

When the Kentucky local editor goes after news he gets it always. This is what he wrote about a young woman who was badly burned: "After Miss Jones' injuries had been dressed in cotton and oil, Mr. Ben Britton picked up what he supposed were her gloves. They were examined and found to be the skin of her hands and wrists, with the nails, which she had rubbed off in her frantic attempts to quench the flame."

No reputation is safe in these days. Prof. Huxley demonstrated that the horse is an evolved form of the orobippus. This scandal would never have come out if the horse hadn't been running for something.—Buffalo Express.

If there is one thing above another that will cause a man's heart to cease pulsation, it is to see a woman striding out to a clothes-line, with a piece of wet finery in her hand and two clothes-pins protruding from her mouth.

Of the 117 young women in the Michigan University only four have taken to the legal profession.

He who gives a trifle meanly, is meaner than the trifle.

THE HOME NEWSPAPER.

Their value is by no means appreciated, but the rapidity with which people are waking up to their necessity and usefulness is the most significant sign of the times. The thirst for knowledge is not easily satiated, and books, though useful, yes, absolutely necessary in their place, fail to meet the demands of youth or age. The village newspaper is eagerly sought and its contents as eagerly devoured. Then comes the demand for the county, State, foreign and national news.

Newspapers are also valuable to material prosperity. They advertise the village, county or locality. They spread before the reader a map on which may be traced character, design and progress. If a stranger calls at a hotel, he first inquires for the village newspaper; if a friend comes from a distance, the very first thing after a family greeting, he inquires for a village or county newspaper, and you feel discomfited and confounded if you do not take it.

The newspaper is as necessary to fit a man for his true position in life as food or raiment. Show us a ragged, barefoot boy, rather than an ignorant one. His head will cover his feet in after life, if he is well supplied with newspapers. Show us the child that is eager after newspapers. He will make a man of mark in after life if you gratify that desire for knowledge. Other things being equal, it is a rule that never fails. Give children newspapers.

THE LEAF OF LIFE.—There's a curious member of the plant family, very common in Jamaica, I am informed, called the life plant, or leaf of life, because it is almost impossible to kill the leaves. You may cut one off and hang it up by a thread, where any ordinary leaf would be discouraged and dry up. It will send out long, white, threadlike roots and set about growing new leaves. You may cut off half a leaf and throw it into a tight box, where it can get neither light nor moisture (necessaries of life to other plants); the spirited little leaf puts out its delicate roots all the same. Even pressed and packed away in a botanist's herbarium—the very dryest and dullest place you ever did see—it will keep up its work, throw out roots and new leaves and actually grow out of its covers. I'm told that botanists who want to dry this pertinacious vegetable are obliged to kill it with a hot iron or with boiling water.—St. Nicholas.

The Housekeeper says: there is more to be learned about pouring out tea and coffee than most ladies are willing to believe. Often persons pouring out tea, not being at all aware that the first cup is the weakest, and that the tea grows stronger as you proceed, bestow the poorest cup upon the greatest stranger, and give the strongest to the very youngest member of the family, who should have been without. Where several cups of equal strength are wanted, you should pour a little into each, and then go back, inverting the order as you fill them up, and the strength will be proportioned properly.

An old gentleman gave us the following as an infallible cure for the bite of any poisonous reptile or insect. He states that snake bites have been cured by it when everything else failed. The remedy is a very simple one. Common indigo dampened and applied to the wound. He states that it is equally effective for the bite of rabid dogs.

A few nights ago, as a young man stood up in the gospel tent, busily taking notes, Dr. Tyng came up, and, laying his hand upon the other's shoulder, suddenly asked, "My friend, are you a Christian?" "No, sir," answered the startled note-taker, "I'm—I'm only a reporter."

How the heart warms toward the man who lives in the sunny side of life. Never grumbles about the weather, keeps his temper in the midst of fretting cares, speaks kindly of his neighbors, refrains from cutting words that so often make wounds never to heal!

An Eastern paper says that trying to get up business without advertising is like winking at a pretty girl through a pair of green spectacles—you may know what you are doing, but nobody else does.

Many do with opportunities as children do at the sea shore—fill their little hands with sand and then let the grains run out through their fingers till they are gone.

New England manufacturers are dividing their employes into parties and sending them to the Centennial for a week.

Seven members of the Boston bar have been convicted of crimes within a year.

One of the citizens of Danbury, Conn. who had just returned from the West, was telling in Merrill's grocery store of a narrow escape he had from a terrible death. He was crossing a long railroad bridge on foot, when he was surprised to see a locomotive coming around a curve, and tearing toward him at a terrific speed. The bridge was too narrow to allow of escape at either side, and he did not dare to jump into the yawning abyss below. In a flash he took in the situation and formed his plan of action. He started on a swift run toward the oncoming locomotive, and when within a few feet of it he concentrated all his nerve and muscle into one effort, and leaped straight up into the air. The fearful monster shot under him, and he came down on the bridge, saved from death, but seriously shaken up by the descent. There was a moment of deep silence upon the close of this narration. Then one of the company sighed, and shut up his knife, and unexpectedly said: "What's the use of presence of mind when a man can lie like that?"

A CURE FOR LIQUOR DRINKING.—At a festival recently, a gentleman said of the cure of the use of intoxicating drinks: "I overcame the habit by a recipe given to me by old Dr. Hartford, one of the good old physicians who do not have a percentage with a neighboring druggist. When I called on him he said: 'Now that you have the moral courage, I'll tell you the tonic which I have used among my friends for twenty years.' I expected, of course, some nasty medicine stuff; but no, he prescribed an orange every morning, a half hour before breakfast. 'Take that, and you will want neither liquor nor medicine.' I have done so regularly, and find that liquor has become repulsive. The taste of the orange is in the saliva of the tongue, and it would be as well to mix water and oil as rum with my taste.'

A man recently died in Zurich who for thirty years made a big fool of himself. When young he fell in love, and then became jealous. While in this condition he offended his sweetheart, who to punish him made him swear that he would not speak for twelve months. He swore. But she died before the twelve months elapsed, and the lover concluded to remain dumb until he rejoined her in the next world. He kept his word, and for thirty years was never heard to speak.

"And you think, darling, you could be content to share my humble lot, and live in a quiet way with love and me?" queried the blissful lover as he looked fondly into her translucent blue eyes. "Why, yes, precious; you have no idea how economical I am. Pa gave me a hundred dollars last week to buy a new silk, and I saved enough out of it to purchase four pairs of six-buttoned kids."

The Leipsic bookseller, Minde, publishes a pamphlet which predicts the end of the world on the 28th of August 1876. At the same time he announces that retail dealers may return unsold copies of the pamphlet until the close of the year.

The Hartford and New York steamers exhibit a melancholy commentary upon Connecticut civilization. In their staterooms they have a notice posted which reads: "Passengers will please not go to bed with their boots on."

Sir Charles Adderley has invented a new phrase. In speaking recently in the British House of Commons about American seamen, he described them as United Statesmen.

A young man committed suicide in Rentlingen, Germany, because his parents compelled him to study theology when he wanted to be a carpenter.

It is dangerous now to send any small child out with a message and a few cents. The odds are that he or she will immediately start for the Centennial.—N. Y. Mail.

MUSICAL REVIEW.—We have received the June number of this excellent monthly, published by Sherman & Hyde, San Francisco. It contains twelve pages of choice vocal and instrumental music, also criticism of concerts, entertaining correspondence, poems and miscellaneous matter. The music alone, in each number, is worth the subscription price, per year, $1 50. Address Sherman & Hyde, San Francisco, with coin, currency or stamps.

VERY PROPER.—The House passed the bill amending the Mining Act. It provides that when a miner has applied for a U. S Patent he shall not be required to do the work now required every year while the application is pending. This is just. The work done under such circumstances is of no benefit to the mine, but is a great tax on the miner.

The Republicans of Chicago are taking steps to reorganize the "Tanners" of '68 under the name of the "Scalpers," a name suggested by Governor Hayes in a letter in '64, in which he said, "Any man who leaves the army to go home to electioneer for Congress should be 'scalped'."

On Wednesday last Miss Louise Hawthorne, the well known actress, fell from the sixth story window of the Tremont House, Chicago, to the Court below and was instantly killed. Miss Hawthorne was very popular at San Francisco and Sacramento.

AT HOME.—Ex-Speaker Blaine has been taken to his home at Augusta, Me. A large number of friends met him at the depot, but he went at once to his home, being too fatigued to greet them. His friends fear softening of the brain.

Notwithstanding Ex-Speaker Blaine may be said to be at Death's door, the rebel Congressional Committee are still hounding him, and will go on with his investigation whether he is absent or not.

Oliver Wendell Holmes has completed his hymn of "Welcome to all Nations," to be sung at the Centennial ceremonies at Philadelphia, on the Fourth of July.

On Friday of last week the thermometer in the office of the Tehama Tocsin marked 115.

FRATERNIZE!

Governor Irwin has issued a proclamation, declaring Third and Fifth days of July of this year to be legal holidays. As this is our first Centennial it will require more than one day for our patriotism to find full vent. The following is the Governor's proclamation:

WHEREAS, this is the Centennial year of American Independence; and, whereas, the American people, inspired by emotions of patriotism, and feeling a just pride in the greatness and prosperity of their country and the unrivaled freedom and excellence of its institutions, are disposed to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of their existence as a nation in a manner in some degree worthy of their origin as a separate political community, and of their present position among the nations of the civilized world; and, whereas, the programmes for such celebration in many places in the State, and particularly in the city of San Francisco, embrace both the day preceding and the day following the anniversary of our independence; and, whereas, it has been suggested by numerous public spirited and patriotic citizens that both these days, as well as the Fourth of July, be declared by competent authority to be public holidays this year, and be observed by the people as such;

Now therefore, by virtue of the authority in me by law vested, I do declare the Third and Fifth days of July, 1876, to be legal holidays, and do call on all persons to desist, on those days, from their ordinary vocations, and to devote them, equally with the Fourth, to a becoming celebration of the origin, progress and present greatness of the American people.

We hope the Governor's suggestions will be received with favor by the people of the whole State. In the interior counties the three days could be made the occasion for a re-union of the people at different precincts in the county, for the cultivation of a more social intercourse among all classes, and the doing away with sectional jealousies. Alpine is a fair field for a trial of this kind. It is not to be denied that the progress of this county has been very greatly retarded through foolish sectional jealousies and personal spite. The prosperity of the mining districts tends to increase our population, leads to new industries to supply the wants of the miner, and enriches the agricultural portion of our county by giving our farmers a home market for their products, and it is to the advantage of every person having an interest in the county to utilize this Centennial anniversary in cultivating a more friendly feeling among neighbors. If we expect our county to prosper we should all act in harmony, and cast to the dogs the petty, local jealousies that have been a detriment to Alpine, and ever will be so long as they exist. Let us fraternize and become one happy family of Alpiners!

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.—The St. Louis Convention nominated Gov. Tilden, of New York, for President, and Gov. Hendricks, of Indiana, for Vice President. As Hendricks wanted to be first fiddler in the Democratic family, he may not accept the subordinate position, with defeat staring him in the face. The Convention was a very tame affair, lacking the enthusiasm so prominent at the Cincinnati Convention. The nomination of Tilden insures an easy victory to Hayes & Wheeler The Republicans will Hayes Tilden in his own State.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

ROOMS OF THE UNION REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE,
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., May 25, 1876.

The next Union Republican State Convention for the nomination of SIX Presidential Electors and SIX Alternates, and a State Controller, to fill the vacancy caused by the decease of Hon. J. W. Mandeville, the late incumbent, will be held in the City of San Francisco, on WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1876, at Dashaway Hall, south side Post street, between Kearny and Dupont streets, at 10 o'clock A. M.

In calling the Conventions for the election of delegates, the Committees of the several counties are recommended to invite all Republican electors, and all other voters, without regard to past political differences or previous party affiliations, who are opposed to reviving sectional issues and desire to promote friendly feeling and permanent harmony throughout the country by maintaining and enforcing all the constitutional rights of every citizen including the full and free exercise of the right of suffrage without intimidation and without fraud; who are in favor of the continued prosecution and punishment of all official dishonesty, and of an economical administration of the Government by honest, faithful and capable officers; who are in favor of making such reforms in government as experience may from time to time suggest; who are opposed to impairing the credit of the nation by repudiating any of its obligations, and in favor of sustaining in every way the national faith and financial honor; who hold that the common school system is the nursery of American liberty, and should be maintained absolutely free from sectarian control; who believe that, for the promotion of these ends, the direction of the Government should continue to be confided to those who adhere to the principles of 1776, and support them as incorporated in the Constitution and laws; and who are in favor of recognizing and strengthening the fundamental principles of National Unity in this Centennial Anniversary of the birth of the Republic.

The apportionment of Delegates is as follows:

The State Central Committee recommends the following test:

"Opposition to the restoration to power of the Democratic party, and intention to act in good faith with the Republican party."

The following from the Coast Review, the only Insurance journal on the Pacific Coast, is to the point:

"For faithful and economical management, the Mutual Benefit has a record equal to any Company in America. Its dividends paid to gross premiums received, have been LARGER than those of any other Company for the past ten years, and its average ratio of expense of management to income, since its organization, only amounts to 8 and 76-100 per cent. It is PURELY MUTUAL, dividing up the surplus annually with the policy-holders. It is a sound and reliable organization, under judicious management, and entitled to the full confidence and liberal patronage of the public."

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FOURTH OF JULY BALL.—A ball will be given at Monitor on the evening of the Fourth, so that our people will have at least one way in which to give vent to their patriotic feelings. There will be no tickets sold, as the expenses will be paid by subscription, so no one need stay away, fearing he will have to pay $5 for a ticket. Supper will be spread at Dunlap's Hotel. We hope to see present representatives of every portion of Alpine, that it may prove a social reunion of the people of the county.

LOVE'S DOINGS.—Supervisor R. K. Love will on Monday next re-open his Silver Mountain Market, corner of Main and Third streets. Having bought out R. J. Rutter's interest in the Monitor Market, Mr. Love will also "run" that institution, with Mr. Rutter to do the amiable. As Mr. Love has a large number of fat beeves on his ranch our citizens may rest assured that his markets will be supplied with fat, tender and juicy meats.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.—On Saturday last the following were elected School Trustees: Monitor—T. E. Rutter and Thos. J. Burrows. Rutter drew the long term. Markleeville—John Cronkite and A. G. White. At Silver Mountain the polls were not opened, and Superintendent Ford will have to appoint a full Board for this District, R. M. Folger, who held the long term, having resigned. There was no election at Woodfords, and Superintendent Ford has appointed David Stevens, Trustee.

THE FURNACE.—Brick is being hauled to the site for the O'Harra furnace, to be erected at the Exchequer Mill. It is expected that the furnace will be getting out bullion on or before the 1st of September. It is a consolation to know that this is not another Alpine experiment. The success of this style of furnace at Peavine has dispelled all doubts as to its ability to work our ores.

WAKE UP!—It is time the Republican Central Committee of this county were moving in the matter of calling an election for one delegate to the Republican State Convention to convene at San Francisco on August 9th. The Committee cannot appoint a delegate, the State Central Committee having ordered that all delegates be elected at a primary election.

NEARER.—The Virginia Enterprise says the Virginia and Truckee Railroad is to be extended southward, and that work for that purpose will shortly commence. This means to Genoa, and, in time, to Silver Mountain. When completed to Genoa, Alpiners will escape a tedious ride of thirteen miles.

AT WORK.—Harvey S. Blood has men at work on the Big Trees road, putting it in order for teams. The present hot weather causes the snow on the road to run off very fast. It is said that freight teams will be enabled to come through by the 10th instant.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. M. W. Pratt will hold services in this county to-morrow, July 2, as follows: At Woodfords, 10½ o'clock A. M.; Markleeville, at 1 P. M.; Monitor, 5½ P. M.; and at Silver Mountain at 7½ P. M. All are cordially invited to attend.

THE ADVANCE.—This shaft is down 275 feet, and the seams are pitching east, with the ledge. We visited the mine on Thursday and found men engaged in grading a site for an addition to the hoisting works, to accommodate the new machinery.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.—The Board of Supervisors was to meet as a Board of Equalization on Monday next, but as the Governor has declared that day and Wednesday next legal holidays, the meeting will have to be postponed.

HOPE VALLEY.—The residents of this beautiful valley have returned from their Winter quarters on the other side of the mountains and are now engaged in making their regular quota of butter.

A FEW MORE.—Thousands of sheep have passed through town this week, and this morning Jonathan Dickens, of San Andreas, arrived with his flock of 2,650 head.

CONVALESCENT.—We are glad to learn that Wm. A. Johnson, of Markleeville, who has recently been very sick, is now much better and able to walk out.

NO SCHOOL.—As Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday next are legal holidays, our public schools will not be in session on those days.

GOOD.—The roads throughout the county are now in very good order.

Judge Reed has been engaged in trying a case at Bakersfield, Kern county, involving the title to that town.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.—The July issue of this magazine is an unusually interesting one. It contains much of a Centennial character, which is now of interest to Americans. It gives us a "Story of the Signing," (Declaration of Independence), illustrated; A Little Centennial Lady, a sketch of Sally Fairfax, Washington's pet and favorite. The Stuart Portraits of Washington story gives us many anecdotes of Washington and the great painter. Then we have Bret Harte's Gabriel Conroy; a defense of Daniel Webster and the Compromise Measures of 1850; and many other articles of interest, besides several poems.

Published by Scribner & Co., New York, at $4 per annum.

ST. NICHOLAS.—This magazine gives, in the July number, much historical information to our young folks, and is deservedly popular among old and young. It contains One Hundred years of American History; The Cat and the Countess, with comical illustrations; Our Flag; The Boy Emigrants; Turret-Ships and Torpedoes; The Vikings in America, and a legion of other articles, both instructive and amusing.

Published by Scribner & Co., New York, at $3 a year.

The dory Centennial sailed from Gloucester, Mass., June 15th, for Europe, in command of Alfred Johnson, a Danish fisherman. The Centennial measures but 16 feet on the bottom, 20 feet on top, 2½ feet in width, and 2½ feet in depth. She is decked over, with the exception of standing room and the hatchway; has three water tight compartments, and is provided with a mast contrived to hoist or lower at will. She carries a mainsail and jibs and a square sail. Her course will be the ordinary steamer route.

The ocean yacht race from Sandy Hook to Cape May and return was won by the celebrated yacht America, now owned by Gen. B. F. Butler.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of James A. Williams, of Iowa, to be Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Last year the San Francisco Mint coined 36,000,000.

The President has nominated Albert W. Wyman Treasurer of the United States, vice New, resigned.

A HEALTH PROMOTING STIMULANT.

Physicians, who certainly ought to be the best judges of such matters, declare that wholesome stimulation is not only desirable, but essential in many instances. When the temporary good effect of a sound stimulant is confirmed and rendered permanent, as in the case of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, by the action of tonic and alterative principles combined with it, it becomes infinitely more efficacious as a renovant of physical energy and a corrective of those conditions of the body which invite disease. The Bitters have received the emphatic sanction of medical men who have observed the effect of that popular stimulative cordial as a remedy for weakness, nervousness, dyspepsia, constipation, inactivity of the liver, malarious fevers, and many other disorders. Its basis is sound old rye, the purest liquor known to commerce, and itself possessing tonic properties of no mean order.

The small pox is increasing at a fearful rate in San Francisco. It is not confined to any particular locality, but if found in every part of that city. Up to Thursday noon 133 cases had been reported since the 1st of May.

Preparations for the celebration of the third and fourth in New York are almost completed. The parade will be one of the most imposing demonstrations ever witnessed in that city. The entire first division of the National Guard will turn out and a number of civic societies are to participate. It is calculated the procession will be five miles long. MEDICAL.

TASTELESS MEDICINES.

A prominent New York physician lately complained to DUNDAS DICK & CO. about their SANDALWOOD OIL CAPSULES, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold, he inquired and found his patient had not been taking DUNDAS DICK & CO.'S.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and DUNDAS DICK & CO take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing OIL OF SANDALWOOD from coming into disrepute.

PHYSICIANS who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure Oil in the best and cheapest form.

DUNDAS DICK & CO. use more OIL OF SANDALWOOD than all the Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Perfumers in the United States combined, and this the sole reason why the pure Oil is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other medicine can this result be had.

DUNDAS DICK & CO.'S SOFT CAPSULES solve the problem, long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

Soft Capsules are put up in tin-foil and neat boxes, thirty in each, and are the only Capsules prescribed by physicians.

TASTELESS MEDICINES.—Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO.'S SOFT CAPSULES. NO TASTE. NO SMELL.

☞ These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.

YOUNG MEN

Who may be suffering from the effect of youthful follies or indiscretions, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the alter of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of seminal weakness, or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure. He would, therefore, say to the unfortunate sufferer who may read this notice, that you are treading on dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedy for your complaint. You may be in the first stage; remember you are approaching the last. If you are lordering on the last, and are suffering some or all of its ill effects, remember that if you persist in procrastination, the time must come when the most skillful physician can render no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you; when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. In no case has the Doctor failed of success. Then let not despair work upon your imagination, but avail yourself of the beneficial results of his treatment before your case is beyond medical skill, or before grim death hurries you to a premature grave.
